

Da Capo Winds

Newsletter 1 (31 March 2009)

Welcome to Da Capo Wind's first newsletter. Of course the big news (that everyone in the band knows about) is that we have become an independent training band and relocated to Yateley School on 16 March 2009. It has been a busy time getting things organised but as we approach the Easter break everything seems to be falling into place.

Concerts

The first concert in our new venue, will be on the evening of Monday 20th July. As well as the band items that we have been working on, there is the chance for smaller groups or items for soloist and piano to be included. If you have something that you would like to play please talk to Len as soon as possible and we will include as many of these extra items as we can. We would like a good audience for our first concert so please bring along friends and family and we will make it a good evening. Each band member is asked to bring along enough food and drink for two people for a "mini-party" during the interval.

Future Concerts

We are planning to have a concert on the last Monday of the term just before we close for Easter and the summer break. In December the plan is to put together a concert for young children (and those young at heart) on a Saturday afternoon late in December. The likely date for this year's concert is 19 December.

Website

www.dacapowinds.co.uk is now up and running so do have a look and let Len know what you think. If you notice any mistakes please let Len know as soon as possible so that they can be put right.

Future Newsletters

We are looking for someone in the band (or a parent perhaps) to take on the job of newsletter editor. Any volunteers would be most welcome. There may be other areas that would benefit from having some volunteer help. If you fancy getting involved please let us know.
